

LOUISIANA SLAYERS WIN NEW REPRIEVE FROM HIGH COURT

JUSTICES REVERSE FORMER RESPITE BUT GIVE ANOTHER

Supreme Court Grants
Mrs. Lebonouf and Dreher
15-Day Stay After Revoking Chief Justice.

SHOULD HAVE DIED
ON SCHEDULE

Long Will Permit Love
Killers Another Month
of Life on Recommendation
of Tribunal.

New Orleans, January 11.—(AP)—
The Louisiana Supreme Court today
granted a 15-day stay of execution to Mrs. Lebonouf and Dreher, who were sentenced to hang in Louisiana, and
her paramour, Dr. Thomas
Dreher, were saved from the gallows
by a supreme court stay of 15 days granted
today and the promise of Governor
Huey P. Long that he would
officially reprieve the two tomorrow.
The stay was granted by a 5-4
decision of the Louisiana Supreme Court, with Chief Justice
John B. Breaux dissenting.
The stay was granted on the basis of the fact that the two had been
sentenced to hang in Louisiana, and
her paramour, Dr. Thomas
Dreher, were saved from the gallows
by a supreme court stay of 15 days granted
today and the promise of Governor
Huey P. Long that he would
officially reprieve the two tomorrow.
The stay was granted by a 5-4
decision of the Louisiana Supreme Court, with Chief Justice
John B. Breaux dissenting.

To Review Chief's Act.
Judge James Simon, of St. Mary parish, on whose decision declaring
the two sane, appeal was heard, replied to the summons from the court
by written argument and filed it with the court.
Two opinions issued from the high court today. The majority vote
held that Chief Justice Charles A.
O'Neill was without authority in revoking a stay of execution a week
ago and held his action null and void.
From this point the chief justice
minority opinion dissented, reiterating his claimed constitutional right.
The majority opinion held further that the vote a week ago of the four majority justices refusing an appeal from Judge Simon's decision and ordering the execution to proceed last Saturday was valid and "decreed to be in full force and effect."
Thereupon the state supreme court invoked the 15-day intervention for hearing on the chief justice's order
and requested Governor Long to grant
an official reprieve of from three weeks to a month for the hearing.
Soon after the decision was conveyed to the governor the chief justice announced he would follow
the suggestion of the court and grant
a reprieve.

POINCARÉ WINS CONFIDENCE VOTE FOR HIS CABINET

Paris, January 11.—(AP)—After a long and bitter debate Premier Raymond Poincaré triumphed over the opposition to him and his new cabinet tonight by a greater margin than even his friends had expected.
The vote was 317 to 253 for rejection of a vote of non-confidence—a majority of 64.

A periscope showed, close by the transport—
A "mosquito" boat dashed over and dropped a depth bomb—
The staggering conning tower rose, sank and bubbles of oil rose to the surface!

That is one of the thrilling experiences described in the second installment of

COMPOSER PLAYS OWN DEATH MARCH, EXPIRES ON STAGE

Gand, Belgium, January 11.—(United News).—The well-known Belgian composer, Van Hove de Saint Pol,
suddenly halted a concert of light
operatic music under his direction at the city of Stekene tonight and directed the musicians to play the "Funeral March."
The composer directed the musicians
perfectly until the last note ended
when his baton dropped from his hand
and he fell dead.
Apparently he had felt the approach of death in the midst of the concert and only by sheer will power
conducted the final piece.

FIRE DEPARTMENT BODIES NEAR-FIGHT

Battle to Finish for Control
to Be Waged Today
by Board of Firemasters
and Fire Committee.

A fight to the finish for control of operation and administration of the Atlanta fire department will be waged
at 2 o'clock this afternoon at a special called session of city council.
Mayor I. N. Ragsdale called the meeting after a petition bearing the signatures of 21 members of general
council had been submitted to him
asking for the session.
The call presages a battle between the board of firemasters Mayor Ragsdale named Monday in reorganizing
city council and the fire committee
which he selected at the same time.
Councilman William E. Saunders, of the twelfth ward, selected as chairman of the fire board, and Tom C. Morris, of the fifth ward, who was designated as chairman of the fire committee, are the principals
in the fight.

School Heads to Appear.
George W. Powell, president of the Atlanta board of education, and William A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, also will appear before council, if all matters in the call are considered, seeking to justify a tentative budget calling for $5,726,485.60 for school purposes this year. This was considered as an effort by the school
department to forestall a probable veto of the budget by Mayor Ragsdale. If council will signify its willingness to provide the total amount between Mr. Powell, Mr. Sutton, the mayor and Raymond R. Ritchie, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs.

Morris Seeks Notice.
Mr. Morris Friday afternoon served notice on William E. Cady, chief of the fire department, that as chairman of the fire committee he also was chairman of the fire board, and was in direct charge of the department.
The claimant exhibited a ruling from City Attorney James L. Mayson
which, he declared, supported him in his contention.
Opponents of Mr. Morris will offer
an amendment at the meeting this afternoon.

ONCE SENTENCED TO DEATH, DOCTOR GETS 1 TO 14 YEARS

Chicago, January 11.—(AP)—Dr.
Amante Bonetti, once under sentence of death for the murder of Miss Loretta Enders, by an illegal operation, today was saved from the electric chair by the second jury to try the case. He was convicted of manslaughter, carrying with it a mandatory sentence of 1 to 14 years penitentiary.

The jury reached its verdict after being out for more than 13 hours.
The defense immediately moved for a new trial and the motion will be heard next week.

OHIO GRAND JURY REFUSES TO INDICT 'MORAL MURDER'

Canton, Ohio, January 11.—(AP)— Wilbur O. Heldman, Lorain furnace salesman, tonight stood absolved of the death of his attractive 21-year-old wife, Margaret, who committed suicide
after confessing to the slaying of a Canton coal dealer.

The Stark county grand jury, in a report late today, ignored Heldman's
case, holding that there was insufficient evidence to substantiate Coroner T. C. McQuale's charges of 'moral murder.'

Heldman drove up to the sheriff's office the night of last December 13,
with his wife dying from a bullet
wound in her heart, which the salesman said she had inflicted on herself.

REAPPORTIONMENT BILL IS PASSED BY LOWER HOUSE

Terms of Measure Will Cause 17 States To Lose Representatives, While 11 States Will Gain.

Washington, January 11.—(United News).—After a bitter debate the house late today passed a reapportionment bill for reallocating its membership according to the 1930 census.
The bill, which results in 17 states
losing some of their representation
while 11 states gain in membership,
passed without a record vote after a motion to recount was defeated 226
to 154.

Representative Dickinson, republican, Iowa, opened the fight on the measure by offering an amendment
which virtually substituted another
bill which stated the present congress
desired the next congress to reapportion
the house on a basis of 435 members according to the 1930 census.
The amendment was defeated by a vote of 144 to 136. Iowa loses two members in the house under the reapportionment plan and Dickinson
fought vigorously for his amendment.
Representative Hoch, republican, Kansas, was successful in having an amendment adopted which provided reapportionment should be made according to the provisions of the constitution while Representative Cramton, republican, Michigan, successfully inserted a line providing no state should have less than one member in the house.

Representative Black, democrat,
New York, appealed to the house for passage of the bill, declaring Chief Justice Taft has been forced by prevailing social conditions to call for a war on crime, "yet in this paramount law-making body we find members insisting on breaking the constitution."

Representative Lozier, democrat, Missouri, argued for increasing the house membership to 500 or more instead of keeping it at 435.
Tinkham injected the fourteenth amendment of the constitution into the argument, but was ruled out of order by Chairman Chindolph, republican, Illinois, who was presiding.
The reapportionment bill now goes to the senate where the fight against it will be continued by members from states who are certain to lose in the reallocation.

States expected to lose representation when reapportionment is made according to the 1930 census are:
Alabama 1, Indiana 2, Iowa 2, Kansas
2, Kentucky 1, Louisiana 1, Maine 1,
Massachusetts 1, Mississippi 2, Missouri 3, Nebraska 1, New York 1, North Dakota 1, Pennsylvania 1, Tennessee 1, Vermont 1 and Virginia 1.
States expected to gain by the law
are Arizona 1, California 6, Connecticut 1, Florida 1, Michigan 4, New Jersey 2, North Carolina 1, Ohio 3, Oklahoma 1, Texas 2 and Washington 1.

FUGITIVE WANTED IN ROME PAY ROLL ROBBERY CAUGHT

Miami, Fla., January 11.—(AP)—A fugitive who is being sought in two states was arrested by Miami police tonight when they "called his bluff"
to shoot his way to freedom. Police say his arrest and confession clear a series of robberies and holdups here.
He gave his name as T. A. Hambrick,
age 24, of Atlanta.

He was arrested in a house a few hours after he had returned here from Buffalo, N. Y.

Police say he has admitted escaping from Kilby prison, Montgomery, Ala., where he was serving a life sentence for robbery, May 11, 1928.

Committing a pay roll robbery in Rome, Ga., about two weeks later,
it is said, he injured the chief of police while escaping in a motor car.
He drove his automobile into a group
of cars gathered on a road nearby to apprehend him and escaped into the nearby woods.

Dr. David C. Barrow, Beloved Georgian, Dies

DR. DAVID C. BARROW

Athens, Ga., January 11.—(AP)—Dr.
David Crenshaw Barrow, chancellor
emeritus of the University of Georgia,
died at his home here tonight shortly
after 6 o'clock.

"Uncle Dave," as he was affectionately known to thousands of students and alumni of the university, had been in ill health for some time, but today
was reported confined to his room and physicians said his condition was serious.

Although retired three years ago,
Chancellor Barrow continued to hold chapel exercises at the university every morning, until six months ago
when his health became such that he was forced to remain at home.

When he was forced to remain in his room today, physicians said that his strength was failing fast and held out little hope for his recovery.
Funeral services for Dr. Barrow
will be held from the university
chapel Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with burial in Oconee cemetery. Members of the board of trustees, faculty, the student body, representatives of Chi Phi, his Greek

letter fraternity, and other organizations will act as honorary escort.
The name of the officiating minister and the list of pallbearers will be announced tomorrow.

Mrs. Barrow and three of their children, two sons, Ben H. and David Barrow, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs.
Jewett Williams, were at the bedside when the end came. A second daughter, Mrs. Samuel Crowe, was in Baltimore.

Although he was too young to take part in the war between the states,
Chancellor Barrow came to young manhood during the days of reconstruction and gained his college education through so many hardships.
At the age of 22 he was graduated from the State Normal school, now the Georgia State Teachers college, in the young days of that institution, also filling the chair of engineering at the university when he was quite young. Later, he became dean of

EXECUTE 2 IN PLOT ON CHINESE CHIEF BOY, 14, GETS LIFE IN WITCH SLAYING

Overthrow of Manchurian
Governor Sought
by Former Aids of Official's Father.

Tokyo, January 11.—(AP)—Discovery of a plot to overthrow Chang
Hueh-liang, present governor of Manchuria, was given in Mukden dispatches today as the cause of the execution of Yang Yu-ting, who was formerly chief of staff to Chang Tso-lin,
father of the present governor and
late dictator at Peking.

The reports also stated that Yang
Yu-ting had misappropriated $20,000,
000 Mexican from the arsenal funds
at Mukden, that he had opposed the hoisting of the Chinese nationalist flag
in Manchuria and that he had placed Chang Hueh-liang in an awkward light regarding negotiations with Japan in connection with administration of the south Manchurian railway.

The reports added that the Chinese Nationalist government at Nanking
first sentenced the plot and requested
Chang to deal with it appropriately.

Chang has informed the Japanese counsel general and the military authorities in control of the railway
zone that the evidence of the plot was irrefutable. At the same time he assured them the incident in no
wise would imperil relations with Japan. The young governor has assured the widow of Yang Yu-ting
also that she will be afforded full
protection.

Ramifications of the plot were said
to be extensive, one account said that the widow of Yang Yu-ting was injured in the plot and that when he arrived there in company with Chang
Yu-huan, both were arrested.

The fate of the latter is in doubt, an early report that he too had been executed by a firing squad remaining unconfirmed tonight. Another incomplete rumor was that Wen-Chin-lin, director of the Mukden
arsenal, had been taken into custody.

Here in Tokyo the action of the Manchurian government was described as a coup d'etat. It was said that Chang Tso-lin was the old regime of several leaders who were behind it.

SEVEN ARE KILLED AS QUESTION MARK DUPLICATE FALLS

Giant Tri-Motored Plane
Crashes in Pennsylvania
Shortly After Leaving
Ground.

Middletown, Pa., January 11.—(AP)
The big army transport plane C-2
carried seven men to death when it was smashed to pieces in a desperate attempt at a forced landing a few minutes after taking off from the army air depot here today.

Only one man of the eight soldiers from Bolling field, Washington, who started on the return flight to their base, escaped with his life. He is Sergeant Patrick Conroy, of New York city, who tonight was unconscious and in a critical condition in a Harrisburg hospital, suffering from a fractured skull.

The dead:
Lieutenant Henry R. Angell, Birmingham, Ala.; Staff Sergeant Henry Cronan, Washington, D. C.; Master
Sergeant Joseph B. McCarthy, Washington, D. C.; Private Samuel P.
Jones, Bell Buckle, Tenn.; Private
Mike D. Kelly, Minneapolis, Pa.; Private
Charles E. Birch, Chicago.

Travelers Only Mile.
The great tri-motored Fokker, of the same type as the famous Question
Mark and the ship used by Commander Richard E. Byrd in his flight to the north pole, was a twisted mass
of wreckage on a vacant lot within 50 feet of two Royalton houses which it narrowly missed in its mad descend.

Because it was so completely smashed, Captain P. P. Christie, acting commander of the local airport, said
that the cause of the accident
might never be known.

The plane had traveled less than a mile when the few persons who witnessed the disaster saw the plane
glide helplessly over a row of houses,
crash through a tree and drop, a shattered mass, into the rain-soaked
ground.

Five of the passengers were instantly killed, most of them caught beneath the plane or crushed between the engine and the flattened wreckage of the rear of the ship. One man was tossed from the plane and killed
when he fell against a fence.
Pilot Angell was trapped among the tangled wires and broken mechanism.
It required hard work by the rescue men to get him out of the wreck
depot to cut away the wreckage to free him. He was taken to the Harrisburg hospital, where he died an hour later.

Lieutenant Kelly and Sergeant Conroy were taken to a hospital at Harrisburg, where Kelly died soon after being admitted.

Two other soldiers from Bolling field came here with the plane, but did not make the fatal return trip.
Captain H. A. Dinger piloted the ship
back to Bolling field, and another
Charles Mayland was a passenger.
Both left about noon in another plane.

CERAMIC INTEREST SEEKS INCREASE

Manufacturers, Whole-salers and Labor Join Forces in Asking for Protection.

Washington, January 11.—(AP)—
Representatives of manufacturers,
wholesalers and labor joined hands
today in seeking before the ways and means committee increased tariffs for the protection of the American pottery
industry.

The committee also devoted its attention to other items in the earth-ware and glassware schedule, but at the end of the day had no many witnesses remaining to be heard that it was found necessary to call a session
for tomorrow, originally set aside as an off day.

The important metals
schedule will be tackled Monday.
Pottery manufacturers, represented
by W. E. Wells, of East Liverpool, Ohio, presented a petition today for an increase in rates on china and earthenware on the ground that American wages are so much higher than those paid in Europe and Japan
that this country's producers cannot compete with the imported articles.

They asked that the 45 and 50 per cent ad valorem duties now levied respectively against undecorated and decorated earthenware be added in specific duty of 15 cents a dozen pieces
and that 25 cents a dozen be tacked
on the 60 and 70 per cent rates
against plain and colored china.
J. T. Gilman, of Boston, representing wholesalers, and James M. Duffy, of New York, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery, also urged the increased protection. Gilman said the chain of operators and not the public, would absorb the added cost from the proposed tariffs on high grade wares,
while Duffy said the manufacturers needed the increased protection if their books were to show profits and high labor standards were to be maintained.

COLUMBUS BORN IN SPAIN, ARCHIVES DOCUMENT SHOWS

Madrid, January 11.—(AP)—A document found yesterday in the archives
on Pontevedra parish mentioned the place as having been the birthplace
of Christopher Columbus.
It thus bears out the claim that the discoverer of America was a Spaniard and not a native of Genoa, Italy.
The document contained a description of the burial of Columbus and said that the Duke of Veragua, descendant of the discoverer, had sold in the eighteenth century the lands on which stood the building where Columbus was born.

BOARD INDORSES GOODMAN TICKET

Executive Committee of Woman's Club, With
Only 2 Dissenting Votes,
Urges Aid of Members.

A message to the members of the Atlanta Woman's club urging that they "spare no effort to retain in office" the group of officers led by Mrs.
Charles Goodman as president was authorized Friday morning by the executive board of the club at a meeting
at the club house, 1150 Peachtree street. Decision to send out the message was reached by a vote of all but two of the 35 members of the executive board present, it was announced
after the session.

The two members voting against the message were Mrs. Alonzo Richardson and Mrs. Irving Thomas, it was stated.
The full board is composed of 45
members. Mrs. Richardson and Mrs.
Thomas being ex-officio members by virtue of their former presidencies.

No Interpretation Issue.
Since the decision of the state supreme court is final, there remains no
issue of an interpretation of the by-laws between the members of the club,
and hence their attention to the forthcoming special election to be held under the supervision of Judge John Humphries, of the Fulton superior court, should "center only upon the best interests of the club itself," the message declares.

Judge Humphries has set 9:30 o'clock this morning as the time for a conference between counsel for the Goodman group and counsel for the Hornady group to determine the date of the special election to be held by the supreme court. At that time Judge Humphries will issue an order arranging the details of the election, and will appoint in the new election, according to the counsel as to a date, the state supreme court decision directing that Judge Humphries shall set the date.

Following the signing by Judge
Humphries, of the formal orders, Mrs. R. I. Reed, recording secretary of the club, will assume the reins of the presidency until the election is over, it was stated. Mrs. Goodman has been conducting the affairs of the club as de facto president under Judge
Humphries' ruling.

Mrs. John R. Hornady, whose supporters contended that she was the rightfully elected president in the May election, will be Mrs. Goodman's opponent in the new election, according to a statement issued recently by Mrs.
Hornady's group.

Whoever is elected in the balloting
under court supervision will have only four months to serve before the regular annual election of officers in May.
Mrs. Goodman has held the office of president since 1st of month under Judge Humphries' ruling.

Mrs. Bryan Presides.
Mrs. Shepard Bryan, president of the board, presided at Friday's session.
Since there are two candidates for president of the club, the election will be held by ballot, as provided under the by-laws of the club. Where there is only one candidate, the custom is for the secretary to cast the ballot.

Counsel in the case is composed of Judge Shepard Bryan, W. A. Fuller
and M. H. Meeks for Mrs. Goodman, and William Schley Howard and James A. Branch for Mrs. Hornady.

The message to be sent to the club
members by the executive board follows:
"The rule of the majority has never been a matter of debate in the Atlanta Woman's club. As in all other organizations its majority always rules.
The difference of opinion between two groups of club members at the May 1928, meeting and between two courts
since that time, has hinged not upon the principles of majority rule but upon the interpretation of the club's
by-laws as to how the will of either
the majority or the minority may be legally expressed."

"The group which supported the report of the regularly elected nominees is urged to support them."

EVEN PHONE CALLS TO BE CENSORED BY JUGO-SLAVIANS

Zagreb, Croatia, Yugoslavia, January 11.—(AP)—Notices were posted in Zagreb streets today directing all phone calls to be censored by the censor staffs necessary to scrutinize
and censor letters handled by them.
It was made known, too, that hereafter the government censorship will apply not only to newspapers, but to outgoing foreign news dispatches, and that even all telephone conversations are to be supervised closely.

DONOVAN'S NAME IS ALSO OPPOSED

W. E. Lamb, of Chicago,
May Get Attorney Gen-

Rumor.

Washington, January 11.—(AP)— President-elect Hoover, nearing the end of his first week of conferences in Washington since election, today heard opposition voiced to some of those mentioned as likely cabinet selections.
A group of senate republican independents appeared to be behind a concerted drive against the reappointment of Andrew W. Mellon as secretary of the treasury and it has been indicated that this selection would meet with determined opposition in the next senate.

Nye Opposes Mellon.
Senator Nye, of North Dakota, added
his voice today to that of Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, and it is to be expected that Senator Couzens, of Michigan, who has been invited to see Mr. Hoover tomorrow, will strongly oppose appointment of Mr. Mellon.

The treasury secretary and the Michigan senator have engaged from time to time in bitter controversies
over tax matters involving both the administration of the income tax division
of the internal revenue bureau and
the attempt of the treasury to renew a large sum against Senator Couzens on the sale of his Ford motor stock years ago.

The reappointment of Mr. Mellon has been regarded in well informed circles as practically a foregone conclusion and if Mr. Hoover has been influenced by what has been said in opposition to the veteran Pennsylvania cabinet officer there have been no indications of it around his headquarters.

Capital Gossip.
A bit of political gossip which has been going the rounds in Washington and which lacks confirmation is that President Hoover has appointed William J. Donovan, of New York, as attorney general, has caused the president-elect to cast about for other candidates for this post
with the probability that he would name a personal friend.

A part of this story was that W.
E. Lamb, of Chicago, was under consideration. Mr. Lamb, a member of the law firm of Butler, Lamb, Foster
and Pope, was law officer for the food administration during the war and while Mr. Hoover was secretary of commerce he served two years as solicitor for the commerce department.

HANCOCK IS INDICTED; $25,000 BOND ASKED

Indictment Charges Lake-wood Bank Cashier With $53,488.98 Embezzlement.

An indictment charging P. W. Hancock, cashier of the Lakewood bank, with embezzlement of $53,488.98 of the bank's funds was returned Friday by the Fulton grand jury. Bond for the defendant was set at $25,000 by Solicitor General John A. Boykin. Hancock waived preliminary hearing on a municipal court warrant Friday morning. He has not yet made bond. Paul S. Etheridge, president of the bank and chairman of the Fulton county commission, testified before the grand jury regarding the alleged shortage. Hancock was arrested Thursday morning on a municipal court warrant following his alleged confession to the bank directors that he had taken the bank's funds to satisfy the demands of an unnamed man who had blackmailed him with threats against his family.

FARM HEAD REPORTS

ACTIVE YEAR'S WORK

Greater Interest Shown by Farmers Than Ever Before, Says Talmadge.

The state department of agriculture experienced an active year in all its departments in 1928 and greater interest was shown during the year in the efforts of the department to aid the farmers, according to a review of the year's work issued Friday by Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture. Records made by the various branches of the department showed that the year just ended was one of the busiest ever experienced by the department, according to the review. A total of $1,280,563.50 in Georgia products was sold through the bureau of markets in cooperation with county agents over the state, Mr. Talmadge said. This amount included 10 cars of velvet beans, proceeds from which aggregated $20,010.01; 252 cars of corn, $106,860.84; 66 cars of hay, $16,482.52; 91 cars of potatoes, $32,000.51; 171 cars of poultry, $424,558.15; and 499 cars of hogs, $586,227.18. The Market Bulletin, published by the bureau, carrying free advertisements of farm products wanted and for sale by farmers only, was circulated among 60,000 subscribers without charge.

Samples Analyzed. A total of 12,536 fertilizer samples was analyzed for farmers, this figure leading any previous year by more than 5,000. Other analyses by the laboratory included 570 samples of food, 1,000 of stock feeds, 145 of drugs and 257 of plant insecticides. The chemist reported that cases of fraud and adulteration were found to be due more to ignorance than intent. From 60,000 to 80,000 hogs were investigated and treated for cholera, swine "flu," parasites and other ailments through the state veterinarian's office. A total of 60,000 cattle was tested for tuberculosis and seven counties have been declared entirely free from the disease as a result of the veterinarian's work, the report said. Other cattle diseases also came under observation during the year, outstanding among which were blackleg, parasite infestation and contagious abortion, in each of which progress toward checking was reported. Remarkable cooperation on the part of owners and dealers in the work of cleaning up infested areas was noted.

Dairy Industry Gains. As a result of this veterinary work, the dairy industry was described as "taking on new life and growing by leaps and bounds," with numerous large creameries in various sections affording markets for milk offered by the farmers. Numerous analyses of milk and milk products weekly, regular dairy, meat market and slaughter-house inspections showed these branches of the industry much improved, according to the report. Reports on foods, feeds and drugs showed a total of 14,607 inspections with particular attention to cold storage eggs, and evidencing maintenance of regulatory inspection of the commodities involved. Cooperation with the laboratory to protect consumers against fraudulent and adulterated foods and feeds was shown. Beverages, vinegars, canned goods, candies, sausage, oysters, eggs, butter and fruits came under inspections as to purity and weight.

The pharmacy department reported 7,406 inspections and correction of 700 violations of the state poison laws.

$70,000 DAMAGES ASKED AS RESULT OF AUTO CRASHES

Suits for a total of $70,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received in an automobile crash on the Atlanta-Macon highway in September of 1927 were filed Friday in the city court of Atlanta against Ivy C. Milner by Floyd Moody and Moody's relatives.

Floyd Moody is asking $15,000 for his own injuries and $10,000 for his wife's injuries. Mrs. Moody, $15,000; Marguerite Moody, 7, $5,000; and Mrs. R. B. Beddingfield, Moody's sister-in-law, $25,000.

The Moody family alleges that the car driven by Milner was being operated on the wrong side of the highway, suddenly turning and colliding with another car, the other car being driven by Moody.

The suits were filed by Thomas W. Jones as attorney.

CITRUS FRUIT CONTROL Plans Made To Prevent Shipping of Immature Fruit.

Plans to control the shipment of citrus fruits from Florida to other states were discussed at a conference held in Atlanta Friday by Wells A. Sherman, in charge of the division of fruits and vegetables of the United States department of agriculture, and Nathan Mayo, Florida commissioner of agriculture. Federal aid in the prevention of shipments of immature citrus fruit will be sought by the Florida officials.

DIVORCE OF SCHOOLS ## AND COUNCIL URGED

George Powell Champions Board's Right To Raise Funds for Operation.

The first step in what is expected to be a vigorous campaign to totally divorce the Atlanta board of education and control of the Atlanta public school system from city council, was taken Friday when George W. Powell, president of the board, urged that some plan be designed to permit the school board to raise its own funds for maintenance and operation of the system.

The subject was discussed at a conference between Mr. Powell and Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, which also was attended by Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, and Raymond Ritchie, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs.

Seek To Raise Revenue. Mr. Powell urged that immediate steps be taken to make the school board a revenue-raising body which would not be forced to appeal to city council for funds with which to operate the system.

This method, in the opinion of the board president, places the school system under jurisdiction of city council despite the fact that the board can spend the money which council appropriates for use of the schools without sanction of that body.

Mayor Ragsdale and Mr. Powell, together with the other officials, were in conference over the $3,726,485 budget which the board has approved for schools this year, and which has been submitted to the mayor in accordance with the city charter for his approval. Indications are that the budget will be vetoed by the mayor because he must act on it by Monday night, before the finance committee of council is given an opportunity to hear from school administration officials concerning it. An effort to forestall the veto was seen Friday, when the mayor consented to permit Mr. Powell and Mr. Ritchie to appear before council at its special session this afternoon.

All Items Explained. Every item in the list was thoroughly explained to the mayor at the conference. Mayor Ragsdale declared there would be little or no additional revenue this year and pointed out that despite the fact that the needs of the school department are important, that all departments will be forced to operate on a strictly economical basis.

"If we cannot support a reasonable adequate school system for our children, we might just as well close the gate of the city," Mr. Powell said in discussing the problem. "We are willing to answer questions item by item regarding the budget, and if it is a reasonable, fair layout, without extravagance, a way must be found to raise the money to meet it."

Mr. Sutton and Mr. Ritchie explained the budget in detail to the mayor, calling particular attention to the fact that the high schools of Atlanta will lose their accredited standing if additional teachers are not employed.

COUNTY OFFICES TO CLOSE AT NOON EVERY SATURDAY

Happy news for the county employees in the Fulton county courthouse was contained in bright red notices pasted upon the office doors Friday.

The notices informed the public that hereafter offices in the courthouse will close at 12 o'clock noon on Saturdays instead of 1 o'clock. The earlier closing move has been approved by the heads of the county departments, and goes into effect at once.

337,473 AUTO TAGS SOLD DURING 1928 BROUGHT $4,041,787

The state motor vehicle bureau sold 337,473 automobile license tags in 1928 with total receipts of $4,041,787, including duplicates and transfers, according to figures compiled Friday in the office of George H. Carwell, secretary of state.

Passenger automobiles registered during the year totaled 277,881, while 40,299 trucks were registered. In addition, there were issued 1,115 dealers' tags, 2,301 chauffeurs' badges, 1,078 motorcycle tags, 110 sidecar tags, 3,767 duplicates and 9,390 transfers.

ALUMNI CONFERENCE TO CONCLUDE TODAY

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(P)—The concluding session of the regional conference of the American Alumni council will be held in the student activities building at Wesleyan college tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. It was announced tonight following two sessions of the council.

Archie M. Palmer, assistant director of the Institute of International Education, was the principal speaker today on the subject, organized alumni efforts.

"The chief indictment against the alumnus," he said, "seems to be that he confines his interest to the alma mater of his undergraduate days: That he comes back to the campus not to visit a classroom but to be there again. In short the alumnus advises the students 'not to let their studies interfere with their education.'"

The alumni secretaries were entertained with an informal banquet in the dining hall of Mercer university tonight. Dr. Spright Dowell, president of the university, made a short talk.

The OBOY GANG--To the Queen's Taste

OBOY BREAD

THE BREAD THAT'S DEDICATED TO ALL CHILDREN BECAUSE IT'S SO GOOD FOR THEM

What it takes to win the queen's favor, Percy has! It's OBOY BREAD. And the OBOY way is the easiest way to appeal to children of all ages.

Children just naturally like OBOY BREAD. It was made especially for them. It's a treat to eat and packed with the nutriment active youngsters need. Golden, crunchy crust. Snow-white center. Firm, full-bodied texture. And fresh from the ovens--always!

Grown-ups like OBOY BREAD too. It's different from any other they have ever tasted. It's a totally new loaf. That's why it has become one of the most popular breads in Atlanta in just a few weeks. That's why you ought to try it--if you haven't already. Your grocer has it.

DEAN DE OVIES SPEAKS
BEFORE LAWYERS' CLUBPreacher, Lawyer and Teacher
Should Stick to Field,
Divine Declares.

The three greatest contributing factors to civilization are the church, the law and the schools, and, although all these are related, the preacher, the lawyer and the teacher each must stick to his own line, declared Dean Raimundo de Ovies, whose address, "From the Parson to the Lawyer," was the feature of the program of the monthly meeting of the Atlanta Lawyers' club at the Henry Grady hotel Friday night. Dean de Ovies, who formerly was the chaplain at the University of the South, recently has come to Atlanta and has succeeded the late Very Rev. Thomas H. Johnson as dean of St. Philip's cathedral. "A great many ministers have a great complexity of problems," Dean de Ovies stated, "and this often leads them beyond the bounds of their proper sphere. Punishment, however, is not their work and when a preacher starts in the law enforcement game, the devil gives up because he knows he has a worthy successor." Referring to the question of prohibition, the speaker asserted that if the question had been presented to the people of the country on its merits, the work of enforcement would prove a comparatively simple matter. "Scriptural allusions to the use of wine are unmistakable," he said, "and it was a great mistake to warp the truth and put the subject of alcohol on a religious basis." Members of the legal profession who leave their chosen field and invade the realm of the preacher also came in for comment in an amusing story which Dean de Ovies related in regard to a certain jurist who was teaching a large Bible class, only a small percentage of which later attended church.

"You have devoted your life to your chosen profession as I have mine and I much prefer the opportunity of trying to preach the word of God as I see it to having a large Bible class taught by someone else." "If we understand each other the world will be much better off, but the practice of law is for the lawyer and religion is for the preacher," was his final plea. Preceding the address of the evening, the regular business of the club was transacted and the following were elected to membership: P. M. Bird, Stiles Hopkins, M. G. Russell, Charles

He also outlined to the salesmen a complete history of soil fertility and the evolution of commercial plant food, and introduced the latest offering of that company to be marketed under the trade name of NPK. J. A. Woods, also of the Chicago office; Harry Hasson, southern manager, with headquarters in Atlanta; Omar Sanders, J. R. Pratt and C. D. Tombs were also speakers. The sales meeting was brought to a close with a banquet at the Ansley hotel Thursday night. President MacDowell and Mr. Woods left for Greensboro, N. Military Policeman
At Fort Benning Is Killed by Auto

Columbus, Ga., January 11.—(AP)—Cosmer C. Carter, military policeman at Fort Benning, died early today after having been run down by a driver on the Glade road late last night. Levi M. Thornhill, negro sergeant of the 24th infantry at Fort Benning, was arrested later in the day, charged with having been the driver of the machine. He was turned over to the county authorities by the military officials. Carter and a companion, J. D. Copley, of the Infantry Detachment school, tried to flag a ride last night but were struck by the machine. Carter suffered a fractured skull and died after being taken to a hospital. Copley suffered abrasions about the head and leg. His condition is not regarded as serious.

A delicious cake, with a choice of many icings . . .
Southern Silver
Bar Cake

IT IS a white cake—oblong in shape, so that every slice is iced on three sides! Made of specially milled cake flour, the kind the best cooks specify, country butter, fresh eggs and milk. And all the icings are made with pure, natural flavors. Artificial coloring and synthetic flavors are never permitted in Southern cakes.

The icings are made in the following flavors: Pineapple, cocoanut, peach and chocolate. In addition, we make a chocolate-iced Devil's Food in this bar-cake shape. The icing, which is called Butter Cream Icing, is made of crushed fresh fruit or chocolate, sugar, fresh butter and nothing else!

Your grocer has a supply of Southern Silver Bar Cakes in these icings. Buy your favorite from him today, and learn this easy and better way to give your family a treat.

Senate Unit Backs Harris Move for $25,000,000 More To Enforce Prohibition Law

Compromise Reached Over Georgia Solon's Original Demand for $50,000,000 Increase.

BY GOLDSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, January 11.—(AP)—Approving an amendment offered by Senator W. J. Harris of Georgia, the senate appropriations committee today recommended an additional fund of $25,000,000 for the enforcement of national prohibition.

The committee's recommendation represents a compromise over the $50,000,000 enforcement fund originally sought by the Georgia senator, but will be attached to the first deficiency bill, already passed by the house and now pending in the upper chamber.

Senator Harris stated afterwards that the compromise recommendation would be entirely satisfactory to him, adding that he would not ask for a greater amount when the bill comes up for consideration on the floor. He declared also that, in his opinion, enough votes would be found to effect adoption of the item. While it is not permissible to reveal the vote in committee, he said the amendment was approved by a comfortable majority.

Already, it develops, the senate appropriations committee, of which Senator Harris is a member, has asked Dr. James M. Doran, national prohibition commissioner, to prepare a report showing whether or not the additional $25,000,000 can be used effectively in the federal enforcement program for the coming fiscal year.

Commissioner Doran has approved the appropriation and has promised to submit a chart within a few days giving a complete picture of new activities of the prohibition bureau if the additional $25,000,000 is forthcoming.

Final adoption of the Harris amendment will raise the fund which the federal government is spending annually on prohibition enforcement to approximately $30,000,000. The present appropriation for all enforcement activities, including coast guard, customs and border patrol, and the prohibition bureau amount to some $24,000,000. Of this sum $15,500,000 is spent directly by the prohibition bureau.

Thus the federal enforcement fund would be doubled practically by the Harris amendment, and according to the Georgia senator would permit a program several times more comprehensive than that now in effect.

This overhead, he stated, will not be substantially increased by the new activities, leaving all but a minor part of the additional $25,000,000 devoted to further enforcement efforts.

House Attitude in Doubt. Just what the attitude of house leaders will be not revealed today. However, it is indicated that the measure will have the general support of both wets and dries. It was the wets who first put forward the proposal for large increases in the national enforcement fund. Every session in recent years has seen the introduction of some bill or amendment raising the sum to $100,000,000 or more.

In urging the greater fund wet leaders were proceeding on the assumption that a $100,000,000 enforcement fund would permit more effective than the present program, arguing that in the end the country would see a wholesome revolt against such an enormous expenditure of federal funds, opening the way for liberal modification of the Volstead act.

In fact, it was Senator Bruce, of Maryland, one of the most uncompromising wets in the upper chamber who initiated the movement leading to the recent unexpected adoption of a $270,000,000 prohibition enforcement fund by the senate.

Other officers chosen were R. F. Blair, of Cleveland, first vice president; George LaBury, of Pittsburgh, second vice president; Charles Meyer, of Cincinnati, treasurer, and E. L. Hoberg, of Washington, general manager and secretary.

The advisory board selected is composed of L. J. Keach, Indianapolis, retiring president; E. W. J. Hearty, New York; George H. Cross, Chicago; Chester Franzell, Pittsburgh, and George Colley, Boston.

The advisory board also saw votes of thanks extended to Mr. Milam, chairman of the program committee. This was the first time the organization held an annual convention in the south. More than 1,000 delegates attended.

Washington, January 11.—(AP)—Chairman Britten, of the house naval committee, today made public a letter from Commander Joseph Kenworthy, a member of the British parliament, proposing two informal meetings this year of Anglo-American legislators to discuss naval parity.

The letter, which was received today, was one of several exchanges of views between himself and Britten since the latter suggested to Premier Baldwin last December that naval limitation should be discussed at a meeting at Ottawa of members of the American and British national legislatures.

The letter of the parliament today suggested that the American congressional delegation should meet with a parliament group in London in the early spring, with a return visit to Washington in October next. Not only the problems of naval parity but those involving interpretations of international law marine would be discussed, Kenworthy proposed.

Britten said that it was his intention to "talk with members of the committee on naval affairs, as well as with some of the officers of the American group of the interparliamentary union before answering Commander Kenworthy's letter."

The Kenworthy letter praised Britten's suggestion by saying that by your courage you have opened up a new road to international peace and understanding.

"I am in a position to state," his letter read, "that a very influential body of English members of parliament of all parties could be got together for a free and frank discussion and exchange of opinions with gentlemen of like standing in congress."

"Before proceeding further I feel bound to inform you that it is the opinion of many persons with whom I have discussed the proposed meeting, and I venture to express the same opinion myself, that naval parity is not the only question at issue. We may as well face the fact that certain interpretations of international law at sea, have an important bearing on future Anglo-American relations. I believe it will be found just as important to exchange views on this subject as on relative strength of warships."

SHOOTING INN KEEPER WHO STAGED PARTY DAUGHTER TOOK IN

Camden, Ark., January 11.—(AP)—The aftermath of a high school party at a roadside near here last fall at which liquor is alleged to have been served to approximately 75 Camden High school students came today when Alex Hardin, 25, proprietor of the roadside was shot and critically wounded by F. E. Sullivan, father of a 15-year-old girl who attended the party.

Sullivan encountered Hardin in an alley at the rear of a garage today and opened fire with a pistol. He surrendered to police immediately after the shooting. Hardin, who was shot four times, is in a critical condition at a hospital here. Attendants at the party expressed little hope for his recovery.

Hardin is under $1,000 bond for appearance before the Ouachita county grand jury to answer to a charge of giving intoxicating liquor to minors. The liquor charge grew out of a lengthy investigation of the party last fall, during which many students of the high school were questioned. After lengthy questioning five boys and one girl, Sullivan's daughter, were placed under $1,000 bond for appearance before the grand jury as witnesses against Hardin.

PROBE LIFE OF WOMAN HELD IN PLOT ON MATE. Detroit, January 11.—(AP)—Earlier marital affairs of Mrs. Grace J. Wood and Ralph A. Wood, the wealthy estranged husband she is accused of conspiring to have "taken for a ride," occupied police attention today as they planned arraignment of the woman and two men on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Mrs. Wood and the two men, William Thompson and Taylor Pierce, were arrested after a police ambush Wednesday night had resulted in the killing of Ambrose Hager, reputed companion of Thompson and Pierce, and the wounding of a deputy sheriff.

Both Mrs. Wood and her husband had engaged in previous marriages, and police said Wood recently had been a frequent visitor at the home of his first wife, Mrs. Blanch Eastwood in Grand Lodge, Mich. Wood was at Grand Lodge, they said, when he was informed of an alleged plot against him, attributed by Cecil Holt Thompson and Taylor Pierce to the second wife of Wood.

The story told by Holt, Thompson and Pierce, that Mrs. Wood sought her husband's death before he could divorce her, so that she might obtain his $100,000 life insurance and inherit his prosperous real estate business.

The first Mrs. Wood was quoted as having told friends in Grand Lodge that she was in a "fix" and that she wanted to get out of the country. A suit for alienation of Wood's affections was set with his first wife out of court by the present Mrs. Wood. The terms were not disclosed.

MAN ASKS PASTOR TO HOLD FUNERAL THEN KILLS SELF. Tazewell, Tenn., January 11.—(AP)—"Preacher, I am going to kill myself and I want you to preach my funeral Wednesday or Thursday," said James Jennings, an aged man residing in Caney Valley, a few miles from here, to the Rev. T. B. Brown of Tazewell morning when the two men met on the street here.

Jennings patted a bulk concealed in his pocket, and the minister thought the man was joking and laughed. On the afternoon of the same day Jennings drank a bottle of poison. After a period of unconsciousness the pastor recovered. His condition appeared to be not serious.

The attack was later described by Jennings as a dizzy spell similar to one suffered by Mr. Greene a year ago.

The attacks were believed to be the result of Senator Greene's senile condition which was brought about when he was shot on Pennsylvania avenue in an exchange of bullets by bootleggers nearly three years ago.

Question Mark Plane Flies to San Diego From Los Angeles. San Diego, Calif., January 11.—(AP)—Piloted by Captain Ira C. Eaker and with Major Carl Spatz commanding, the army endurance plane Question Mark, which flew from Cleveland here at 12:56 p. m. today from Los Angeles. Major Spatz said that the engines on which slight repairs were made during the flight were functioning normally.

JOHN D., JR., IN SPAIN Arrives With Breasted on Way to Land of Pharaohs. Gibraltar, January 11.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and James Henry Breasted, of the University of Chicago, who have been in charge of excavations in the Valley of the Kings near Luxor, Egypt, arrived here today. They are enroute to the land of the Pharaohs.

SPATZ SEES FEAT OF QUESTION MARK BIG MILITARY AID. Los Angeles, January 11.—(AP)—An "astounding expansion of the air corps radius of military action" was declared by Major Carl Spatz here last night to be one of the chief accomplishments proved by the 150-hour flight of the Question Mark. Spatz, who commanded the record-smashing fueling endurance flight of the army monoplane, spoke before the Los Angeles chapter of the Reserve Officers' association, which entertained the ship's crew at a banquet.

"Continuous sustained flight," Major Spatz said, "the tremendous reach of striking power—in fact, the almost limitless possibilities which this mission has revealed, most profoundly affect any individual thinking in terms of national defense."

The Question Mark is scheduled to leave here today for San Diego, where it will be overhauled before starting its return flight to Washington.

GARDNER IS SWORN IN AS GOVERNOR OF N. C.

Improvement of Agriculture and Rural Life Aim of New Executive.

Raleigh, N. C., January 11.—(AP)—C. Max Gardner, of Shelby, was sworn in as governor of North Carolina at 12:30 this afternoon.

The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice W. P. Stary, of the state supreme court, after the incoming chief executive had been presented by his predecessor, A. W. McLean, the retiring governor.

Achieving his boyhood ambition to become governor, the 46-year-old chief executive declared the dominant purpose of his administration would be to arouse a deep and abiding interest in the affairs of the state on the part of all the people, while a major aim would be the improvement of agriculture and rural life.

The new governor made few recommendations for specific legislative enactments. He advocated an increase of one cent a gallon in the gasoline tax, with a provision for an allocation of a portion of the revenue to county road purposes as a means of relieving the property tax burden to the extent of the levy for highway purposes.

It was proposed by the speaker that the income tax be set apart for lateral highways and roads not at present in the state highway system.

Governor Gardner emphasized, however, that he would oppose any diversion of funds collected by gasoline tax and from motor vehicle licenses to other than road purposes and would oppose a gasoline tax increase except for the purpose outlined.

Except for the suggested increase in the gasoline tax the governor made no specific recommendations as to taxation.

EXPLODER'S DEATH IN STUDIO BRINGS HOLLYWOOD QUIZ. Hollywood, Calif., January 11.—(AP)—George Scott, explorer and motion picture camera expert, was found dead in his gas-filled studio apartment here last night under circumstances which prompted the police to call in homicide officers and the coroner for an investigation.

The police stated the man evidently had been dead several days and the presence of blood at his mouth, a condition described as unusual in asphyxiation, warranted the investigation. The last entry in Scott's diary, on January 4, included a notation that he was not feeling right and that his heart bothered him.

Scott, who was a member of the Adventurers' club and the American Society of Cinematographers, was reported to have been the only living possessor of the secret formula of a valuable process for coloring motion pictures. He had shared knowledge of the process with his inventor, who also died recently.

NAVY DIRIGIBLE TOUR OF FLORIDA MAY BE ABANDONED. Port St. Joe, Fla., January 11.—(AP)—Unfavorable weather conditions may compel the navy dirigible Los Angeles to cast off from the tender Patoka tomorrow and return to its hangar at Lakehurst, N. J. Lieutenant Commander Rosendahl said this afternoon.

Rapidly changing weather conditions, with low pressure in the Gulf of Mexico caused the uncertainty in Commander Rosendahl's plans. He said forecasts for tomorrow and the next day were not favorable for continuing the Florida cruise.

If the wind increased in velocity here tonight, the commander planned to cast off from the Patoka's mooring mast and cruise about until the wind subsided.

The chief difficulty was said to be that the winds are not constant but shifting and possibly dangerous.

ADOLPHUS TO PREACH. Los Angeles Pastor at Whiteford Ave. Sunday. The Rev. George Adolphus, of Los Angeles, Calif., will preach at both morning and evening services at the Whiteford Avenue Baptist church Sunday, it was announced Friday.

Catarrh Favors Flu, Colds, Coughs and Croup. Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a nation who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing, thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as colds, flu, pneumonia, etc.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given such uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. Ranion's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives quick and most delightful relief. Clean, greaseless and absolutely stainless, White Wonder is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—a joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with nasal catarrh.

Gen. Booth Sets Monday To Answer Plea of Council Of Salvation Army To Quit

Commander's Sister, Evangeline, Drives 110 Miles, But Is Not Allowed To See Patient.

Southwold, England, January 11.—(P)—The scene in the drama which is being built around the fight for control of the Salvation Army shifted today from Sunbury-on-Thames to the secluded retreat of General Bramwell Booth at Southwold.

Here occurred a succession of events eliminating in a fruitless visit by the commander's sister, leader of the army's reform element, the facing of the general on his bed by the deputation seeking his retirement from the aged commander-in-chief in their leader, and the announcement later that he would answer their request on Monday.

Early in the forenoon the deputation of seven high Salvation Army officials, who spent last night at an inn at Ipswich with the resolution of the high council, asking retirement of the aged commander-in-chief in their keeping, made their first trip to Southwold Villa, where for months the Booth family has sought to preserve its incognito and escape public curiosity.

But the deputation was not to fulfill its errand so soon, they had not received a note requesting them to withhold their visit until afternoon and the nurse refused to allow them to visit the sickroom.

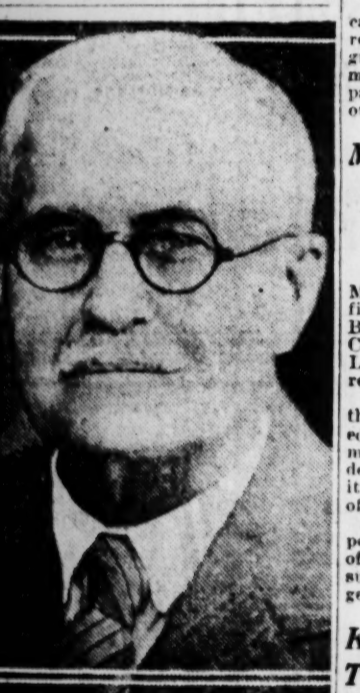

In the meantime Commander Evangeline Booth, the general's sister, and leader of the reform element which is attempting to oust him, had left London hurriedly. After driving the 10 miles in three hours she appeared at Southwold Villa and asked to see her brother.

Had she been allowed to do so she would have been their first meeting since she came to England, Brigadier General Smith, the general's nurse, and spokeswoman for the Booth family, refused her permission with the explanation later that "I thought the ordeal of receiving seven people and civic life of that city, but who recently retired from active business to devote more time to his real estate holdings in West Allis and Florida. Mr. Spencer has lived in Milwaukee forty-five years, is well known and highly esteemed. He said:

"I am leaving for Florida in a few days and will take four bottles of Sargon with me. I don't intend to be without this wonderful medicine."

"For the past year I have been in wretched health, suffering from rheumatism and other troubles on account of an inactive liver, principally. I lost weight rapidly and my strength was ebbing away. I was constantly troubled by indigestion and constipation."

"I felt a marked improvement after my first few doses of Sargon. Three bottles put me in wonderful condition. My appetite is splendid now, my digestion is sound. I have gained ten pounds and my strength has returned in proportion. I'm going to continue the treatment of course, for I wouldn't be without Sargon."

A special Sargon representative can be seen at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, where he is daily meeting scores of Atlanta men and women who wish to learn more about these celebrated medicines. Sargon may also be obtained from the other Jacobs' Pharmacy company stores all over Atlanta.—(adv.)

SENATE HEARS REED ATTACK WAR PACT

Fiery Missourian Calls Kellogg Treaty a "Trojan Horse."

Washington, January 11.—(P)—An agreement to limit debate on the Kellogg anti-war treaty was blocked in the senate today after the veteran "Jim" Reed, of Missouri, had lashed out with his threatened attack on the pact which he described as a "Trojan horse."

For more than two hours the fiery Missourian talked on the "treaty of wards," on "maudlin sentimentalism" and "pacifism," and concluded before a crowded chamber and galleries with an appeal that the senate assure some form of construction on the pact which he held necessary to protect long asserted American rights.

Pacing up and down the center aisle as he warned that the treaty would lead to the League of Nations, Senator Reed turned repeatedly to look at his old ally in the battle against the league, Senator Borah, of Idaho, who is sponsoring the treaty.

Asks Limit on Debate.

When he had concluded, Senator Borah arose to ask that debate on the treaty be limited to 30 minutes for each senator after 3 o'clock tomorrow.

There appeared to be no opposition, but as the necessary unanimous approval was about to be given Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, objected until he could confer with those seeking some form of an interpretation on the pact.

Senator Reed in his speech assailed Secretary Kellogg for his insistence that no interpretation of any sort be placed upon the treaty and tonight Senators Moses, Reed and others favoring an interpretation appeared to be holding out in a last effort to get some manner of compromise which would place in the record the views expressed on the floor by treaty advocates that the pact did not affect America's Monroe doctrine and her right of self-defense.

Interrupted Once.

Only once was Senator Reed interrupted and then by Senator Borah after the Missourian had declared that Borah "practically admitted that the treaty was nothing but a gesture of good will."

"When the senator gets through there won't be that left," remarked the Idahoan.

"Well, Secretary Kellogg won't listen," Reed continued. "He sets up his own opinion as final, so there is nothing to do but debate this to the end."

"The secretary of state is not the watchman of this country," Reed explained that he did not intend to filibuster. Senator Reed, however, translated his appeal for a note on interpretation. He suggested that, if nothing else, the foreign relations committee incorporate in a report the views expressed by Chairman Borah on America's position under the treaty.

Demands Interpretation.

"Why not interpret it?" he asked. "Why not say on paper what you are willing to say with your mouths? We are not asking anything which will require this document to be returned to the other nations of the world for reconsideration."

"You talk about a treaty resting on good faith and in the same breath you are guilty of bad faith with your nation."

Referring to the pact as a "Trojan horse," Reed said "They have put inside it the doctrine of the right of balance of power in Europe."

"They have put into it," he led, "the right of every nation signing it to be controlled by the Locarno treaty and the League of Nations."

He said Secretary Kellogg deliberately made no reference to America's Monroe doctrine in the treaty correspondence and was using this as his "ace in the hole."

Foiled By Phrases.

"What is the general opinion of mankind which they say will enforce this treaty of words?" he asked.

"More people have been fooled by phrases than anything else. One would think this opinion could be got into one room, arouse against conflict and resolve to something like a club meeting where everything would be considered sweet and nice."

As he spoke Senator Reed pointed frequently to a large map of the world resting on a stand before him and on which the dominion of the British empire was painted in red. He said he had no enmity against Great Britain but he declared that Great Britain in reserving freedom of action under the treaty in the protection of her territories had reserved to herself freedom of action in about every sphere of the world.

"The general opinion of mankind," he growled, "lets have a little common sense. They have it on the outside. No nation but the United States could have composed such a song as 'I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier.' Other nations teach their young men the lesson of laying down their lives for their country."

Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, took up the debate late in the day.

Colder, Cloudy Day Scheduled By Weatherman

Slightly cloudy and slightly colder weather will follow Friday's down-pour, according to the forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, head of the local United States weather bureau, who says that the rain will cease by this morning and that a gradual clearing-up process will begin which should be completed in time for a nice Sunday.

Friday's large dose of a mixture of rain and snow was said to have been caused by a disturbance in the central part of the G. I. of Mexico, which brought cloudy weather in the south.

ern states, with rain along the gulf coast and in the lower portion of the south east of the Mississippi. A rising barometer here early Friday afternoon indicated early relief, bureau officials stated.

Temperatures Friday ranged from 37 to 42. Extremes today are expected to be approximately 36 and 45 degrees.

MEDICINE MISTAKE CAUSES DEATH OF TWO NEGROES

Tampa, Fla., January 11.—(P)—A mistake in medicine bottles handed over a back fence last night resulted in the death of D. J. Martin, negro, 49, and his grandchild, Josephine Law, 14, according to police.

Officers said they were told that Martin asked a neighbor for something to cure a cold. The bottle he received, it developed, according to authorities, contained poison. Two negro neighbors are under arrest and police are investigating in an effort to fix the blame, if any, for the deaths.

INJURED ACROBAT ASKS FORGIVENESS THEN HANGS SELF

Chicago, January 11.—(P)—A fellow who has made his living as an acrobat most of his 44 years is not much good when an automobile accident sends him to a crumpled bed for life. With his wife caring on while the husband lies helpless at home, he becomes, as the players say, "excess baggage."

Charles Levine returned home from a matinee engagement yesterday and found a note. "Dear wife," wrote Hendrick Levine, "I am absolutely no good. Please forgive me."

He had hanged himself.

placing himself solidly behind the pact. Among other things, he believed this would be a step toward bringing about the recognition of the Russian government which he endorsed.

Calling attention that Russia had signed the anti-war treaty along with the other world powers, Senator Brookhart declared that if the senate ratified the pact it will constitute American recognition of the Russian government. He also saw hopes in the treaty for bringing about disarmament.

ERLANGER.

The most talked of star and play of the season, Mrs. Leslie Carter in "The Shanghai Gesture," will bring her engagement at the Erlanger theater to a close today with two performances, matinee at 2:30 and night at 8:30. No one who loves the deep thrill that comes with a superior play, the playing of a great role, should fail to see Mrs. Carter in this, her latest and greatest achievement.

Coming to Erlanger.

Walker Whiteside in "The Royal Box," will be the offering at the Erlanger theater on January 17, 18 and 19, with matinee Saturday. Based on an amusing theme from the works of Alexandre Dumas, "The Royal Box," has proven to be one of the outstanding hits of the New York season, and Walker Whiteside is bringing his company and production intact from the Belmont theater in New York, where the play has been running since early autumn. Mail orders, accompanied by remittance, are now being received. The box office seat sale will open Monday morning.

Keith's Georgia.

"Conquest," Warner Brothers' hundred per cent talking picture now showing at Keith's Georgia, will be shown for the last four times today. This exceedingly timely story depicts two men, Monte Blue and H. B. Warner, in the role of Annapolis, who make two attempts to fly over the south pole and the hardships that they encounter in these flights. Lois Wilson in the leading feminine role, furnished the "Conquest" person in the eternal triangle. The management has announced that a special comedy, "Mickey's Eleven," will be shown today for the benefit of the children. On the stage a bill of Keith big-time vaudeville completes the program.

Loew's Capitol.

The leading novelty feature act of Joe Morris and Flo Campbell will be offered at Loew's Capitol theater Saturday at Loew's Capitol theater. Other acts are Muriel Morgan and Van D. Sheldon in a comedy skit; George Lyons, harp virtuoso; "Dancing Lessons," a song and dance revue, and Harry and Mary Scrantom in a wire walking novelty. Norma Shearer is the star in "A Lady of Chance," with John Mack Brown and other stars in the supporting cast.

Loew's Grand.

Last showings of the present return engagement of "Submarine" will be offered at Loew's Grand theater Saturday. This is a gripping story of the sea with many marvelous under-sea scenes. Jack Holt is leading man in the exciting and adventurous tale.

Howard.

Only one more day remains for Atlanta theatergoers to see "Interference," acclaimed the master talking picture of the season, which is playing at the Howard. The play, which is the first screen unit show, this superb production tells the story of a

Mrs. Grace Battey Bayard Honored on 78th Birthday

Mrs. Frank Holland was hostess at an informal tea Friday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Grace Battey Bayard, who celebrated her 78th birthday at her home on Eleventh street. The guests included a group of relatives and close friends who for many years have been the guests of Mrs. Holland and Mrs. Bayard on the latter's birthday. The reception rooms of the home were adorned with innumerable bouquets and baskets of flowers sent the honor guest by her host of admiring friends. Mrs. Bayard wore a gown of black chiffon velvet with a shoulder bouquet of parma violets and valley lilies.

Mrs. Bayard has resided in Atlanta for the past 20 years and has taken an active part in the city's civic, cultural and social circles. She is numbered among Atlanta's most beloved citizens and throughout Thursday was the recipient of numerous congratulations in the form of telegrams and letters sent by friends throughout the south. She is a representative of a distinguished and aristocratic southern family, her parents being the late Dr. and Mrs. Robert Battey, of Rome, Ga. Dr. Battey during his lifetime was considered one of the most renowned surgeons ever produced by the south. He won wide recognition as being the first physician to administer ether as an anesthetic. As Miss Grace Battey, Mrs. Bayard was a popular belle of the sixties following her graduation at the fashionable Miss Drake's school in Ithaca, N. Y.

Miss Howell Entertains O. B. X. Club at Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Camp Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Jefferson Camp celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, January 8, from 2 until 4 o'clock at their home, "Redland Farm," five miles from Douglasville.

In the dining room the table was arranged with four tall golden candlesticks holding gold candles. The table had as a centerpiece a beautiful white wedding cake covered with 50 tiny gold candles and a miniature bride and groom perched on the top tier. Garlands of smilax were banded around the cake.

In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Camp were their children, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bonar, Douglasville; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Abernethy, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Yarnes Camp, of Douglasville, and Jay Camp, of Macon.

Mrs. Camp was becomingly gowned in black satin and wore a lovely shoulder spray of lilies of the valley and yellow roses presented to her by her two grandsons, Maurice Abernethy, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Steve Herren Bonar, of Atlanta.

Every one of the children and grandchildren were present with the exception of a grandson, Maurice Abernethy, of Knoxville, Tenn., who unfortunately was not able to attend. Assisting in entertaining and serving were Mrs. A. Herren, Mrs. Lewis McCalister, Mrs. G. W. Picken, Miss Marie McCalister and Miss Kathryn Picken, all of Atlanta; James Bonar, Douglasville; Miss Mable Abernethy, of Douglasville; and Miss Estelle Boynton, of Atlanta, served punch.

Two hundred guests called during the afternoon.

Vesper Service At St. Mark.

The evening service at Saint Mark Methodist church has been changed to a vesper service at 5 o'clock each Sunday afternoon. Sunday, January 13, the Troubadour Club will sing at a service especially for young people. Thirty voices from the club will take part in the sacred concert, and among other selections they will render "Heavenly Bodies," "King of Kings," Palmer's "Peace, Be Still" and with Louise McDaniel, Handel's "Largo," from the opera "Xerxes." The Troubadours have been heard in various churches and over the radio, WSB. Raymond Musser, new assistant at St. Mark's, organized the club.

This service begins a series of adolescent church services to be held on the second and fourth Sundays at 5 o'clock. These services will be at all times for and by the young people of the church and community and nearby schools, but will be of interest to the public. Miss Eda E. Bartholomew will be at the organ.

Queen Esther O. E. S. Installs Officers.

The installation of the officers for Queen Esther chapter, O. E. S., in the manner of maintaining the standard of beauty and dignity established by the chapter at the time of its organization two years ago, took place Wednesday evening in the chapter room in Red Men's Wigwam. Mrs. Rose Mae Ashby was the grand installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Esta Hansen, grand marshal; Mrs. W. B. Savol, grand chaplain, and Mrs. Warr. Massey, grand organist. The ceremony of installation, proceeded with marked impressiveness. First, the worthy matron, Mrs. Estelle Wilson, elected to serve her second term, after receiving her charge of office and while approaching the east, was met by L. L. Boyer, as past patron of the chapter, and presented with a handsome arm bouquet of pink roses, while Mrs. George Brown sang "There Will Never Be Another You." T. A. Wilson, also serving his second term, was installed, and Dr. T. C. Fowler sang. The following officers were installed: Mrs. A. L. McDonald, as associate matron; Mrs. Bessie Lloyd, conductress; Mrs. T. A. Wilson, as associate conductress; Mrs. Jean Richardson, secretary; Mrs. Ed. McWhite, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Arnold, marshal; Mrs. Fred Straub, chaplain, appointed to serve her third year, was presented by Mrs. Lily Driver with a handsome shower bouquet of pink and white roses from the chapter in recognition of her faithful service, while Miss Boyer sang "Angels of Light, Lead On." Mrs. Gladys Trice was organist.

The star points were the colors appropriate to their stations: Mrs. Leola Smith, Adah, in blue; Miss Estelle Barr, Ruth, in yellow; Miss Vivian Barr, Esther, in white; Miss Florence Peterson, Martha, in green, and Mrs. Bera Hicks, Electa, in red. During the installation each was presented with a beautiful shower bouquet. Dr. Fowler sang as they were escorted in the lovely floral march to their stations. Mrs. Mae Crowder and Dr. Gregory were installed warder and sentinel, respectively. A duet, "Star of My Heart," was sung by Mrs. O. M. Coleman and Miss Virginia Boyer. A violin solo, "Kashmiri Song," was played by Miss Vivian Barr.

WHEN SHE GETS UP
FEELING DULL, SHAKY

This Lady Says She Takes Dose
of Black-Draught To Remove the Cause of Trouble and Prevent Sickness.

Leicester, N. C.—"We have used Black-Draught in our home over a period of twenty-five years or longer, and it is a tried and true friend," says Mrs. Catherine Mears, of this place. "Every member of the family takes it."

"I have never found any other medicine which could take the place of Black-Draught. A dose of it, taken every so often, prevents constipation and dizziness. "As I have gotten older, I have found that one of the quickest ways to get sick is to allow constipation to develop. At my age, it comes quickly, and I have to be careful. "Black-Draught is my stand-by. I get up feeling dull and shaky. I take a small dose to remove the cause. I cheerfully recommend it to others, for I have found it a great medicine for family use."

Constipation damps up poisons in the bowels, where they are absorbed into the general system, causing many serious symptoms.

Thousands of letters from users of Theodor's Black-Draught, on file at the laboratories where Black-Draught is made, testify to the high esteem in which it is held for the relief of constipation and attendant ills.

Service Star

Legion Holds Annual Meeting

The Atlanta chapter of the Service Star Legion held its annual meeting at the Woman's club Thursday with Mrs. Marcus Beck, president, presiding. The reports from the various chairmen showed a year full of helpful work for the disabled soldiers of the world war. Mrs. E. B. Williams reported that 64 boys at Hospital No. 48 had been remembered at Christmas time; also one in federal prison, and one at Black Mountain, N. C.

Mrs. William Mays reported that during December, money had been given to a family of a disabled soldier in addition to warm clothing, provisions and coal. This type of relief is the special mission of the Service Star Legion, and much good has been achieved during the year; also a delightful program has been rendered at Hospital No. 48 once each month during the year and refreshments served.

The report of the treasurer was received with applause. Much of the money used for relief was made on sales of the Service Star Legion cook book. Mrs. L. P. Rossier urged the members to secure advertising for the third addition as it is to be published immediately. Mrs. Paul Reece, co-chairman with Mrs. M. D. Farnham, of the Betty Harrison Jones Junior chapter, made a splendid report of work done by the children, a part of which follows: In September the children gave a program in the Red Cross hut at Hospital No. 48, after which they distributed chewing gum and cigarettes to all the soldiers; in October they held a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Paul Reece at which 22 new members were invited. Mrs. Farnham gave them a talk on patriotism and the inspiration of the life of the late Mrs. Samuel D. Jones. In November they gave a program, along with the Young Matrons' chapter, at the First Methodist church at a meeting of the Atlanta chapter of the Service Star Legion. In December they furnished toys, nuts and raisins to the family of an ex-soldier who had six children.

Mrs. L. G. Hastings, chairman of remembrance, conducted an impressive memorial for the following members who have died during the year: President and founder, Mrs. Samuel D. Jones; Mrs. Mary Butte Griffith; Mrs. B. M. Martin; Mrs. E. A. Pierce; Mrs. J. C. Mathewson, Mrs. Edward

The Baffle Stories

The Beals-Bligh Anonymous Letters.

No. 10.

Who was the person that sent two anonymous threatening letters to Sir Chatham Beals-Bligh?

When Sir Chatham Beals-Bligh, who is known in London society, married the rich Miss Millicent Tucker, of Seattle, Wash., he resolved to give up his life of man-about-town and settle down to more serious pursuits. Accordingly he relinquished the family estate at Tillingham (50 miles from London) and laid plans to stand for parliament. There he lived with his bride for nearly a year.

"A one-sided match," said the wiser, "he cares less than she does." And so it proved, for when the excitement of supervising the renovations was over, Sir Chatham found time hanging heavy on his hands. His neighbors were dull country squires, and he recalled with envy his former gay life in town. At length, pleading business as necessitating a town visit, he came to London and stopped at his town house.

At the theaters and at his clubs he was hailed as one returning from the dead. Weeks passed into months, and Sir Chatham found it hard to return to his wife and the life at Tillingham. Indeed it soon became common gossip about town that Sir Chatham had resumed relations with a certain Austrian dancing girl, who had come home before his marriage had been quite frequent.

To Sir Chatham's valet, Hobbs, this was a most unpleasant state of affairs, for he had recently become engaged to Suzette, Lady Beals-Bligh's young and charming French maid. And Hobbs, being a middle-aged and somewhat bald man, was afraid that in his continued absence Suzette might yield to the attractions of one of the younger servants.

At 10 a. m. one day in the third month of his absence from Tillingham, while telephoning to his wife at the Tillingham mansion, Sir Chatham was surprised to hear Lady Beals-Bligh announce her intention of coming to town the following day. Sir Chatham returned shortly after midnight. Glancing through habit, at the hall table where his mail was left by the servants in his absence from the house, he noticed a long envelope on which his name and address were written in crude block letters, all capitals. He tore open the envelope and with surprise and anger read the following unsigned note. Hand-printed, it gave Sir Chatham no clue to the identity of the sender:

All your plans will be ruined if you continue this dishonorable affair, since I have incontrovertible proof, and will use it where it will do the most harm, if it is necessary.

The letter was postmarked 10:30 a. m. of that day, Paddington station, London. Summoning the butler from his bed, Sir Chatham learned that it had been delivered a few minutes after his departure from the house.

Sir Chatham smoked his pipe anxiously before he began to read the letter. Was it blackmail? Could Hobbs be a traitor? He rang for the valet, but the housekeeper said Hobbs was still out.

At any rate, Sir Chatham reasoned, Hobbs could not have mailed the letter at the Paddington station just before 10:30 that morning, for he had attended Sir Chatham constantly from 7:30 until noon. And Sir Chatham knew that the mail boxes at Paddington were cleared every half hour. "Hobbs could not have left the house long enough to have mailed the letter there—not Hobbs, of all persons," Sir Chatham concluded. For the valet had been devoted to him for seven years.

Fifteen minutes later Hobbs arrived, out of breath from hurrying. He explained that he had spent the evening at Hilton, a suburb of London. He said he had missed the last train and had to return by motor bus. Sir Chatham forbore to question him that night, but decided to watch him carefully.

The following morning Sir Chatham was amazed to receive, in the first delivery of the mail, another envelope of the same type, addressed in hand-printed block letters which resembled those in the anonymous note of the day before. But minute examination showed clearly that they were not from the same hand; the second note was only a fair imitation of the first. Its message was short:

What I mean is, I will tell your wife if it does not stop.

To his astonishment, the letter was postmarked Hilton, the previous evening—Hilton, the very suburb where Hobbs had missed his train the night before. In a sudden rage Sir Chatham Beals-Bligh accused the valet of having sent the letters and confronted him with both. Hobbs was locked and protected in the most violent terms that he was innocent and specifically that he had no knowledge of the existence of the letters until they were laid before him. He said that he had gone alone to Hilton, where he often went on his evenings off, when in London, to play cards with a friend, Raoul Gascoigne, keeper of the well-known French cafe at Hilton.

Sir Chatham was deeply affected by Hobbs' outburst, and upon thinking it over, regretted his violent action. At noon Lady Beals-Bligh and her maid Suzette arrived at the town house. Alone in their apartment, his wife greeted him so affectionately that Sir Chatham impulsively decided upon a daring step. In fear that the anonymous threat might be carried out, he poured out his heart to his wife, telling her of the letters, making a clean breast of his relations with the baroness, and throwing himself on his wife's mercy. He gave assurance that he loved only her and that she need never fear a similar "indiscretion," which he said he deeply regretted.

Lady Beals-Bligh received his confession in silence, and then without a word rose and left the room. An hour later she and her maid departed in a cab with her luggage. Angered alternately at his confession and the rejection of it by his wife, Sir Chatham summoned his counselor at law, an old friend, and laid the anonymous letters before him with instructions that the identity of the sender be discovered at all costs. He also gave instructions that handwriting experts be called on the case. A searching investigation was immediately requested of a private detective, former Inspector Givott, a quondam anonymous letter expert of Scotland Yard. The counselor at law promised a full report to Sir Chatham within a few days.

The following morning, while fully expecting that his wife's next communication would be through her solicitor, Sir Chatham was amazed to receive a letter postmarked Tillingham. It was an affectionate and philosophical letter from his wife, written the night before; it closed with this paragraph:

"Ever your loving wife,

"MILICENT."

With an unaccustomed alacrity and cheerfulness, Hobbs thought, Sir Chatham Beals-Bligh ordered the immediate packing of his bags and announced the welcome news that they were to return for Tillingham. Sir Chatham called at the office of his counselor and showed him the forgiveness letter. He placed a sum at the disposal of the investigating agency and ordered the result of the search to be forwarded to him at Tillingham. And he and Hobbs departed.

Three days later Sir Chatham's counselor replied that the private detective could make no headway on the case whatever. And he added the opinion that unless moved by further anonymous letters, Sir Chatham might just as well let the matter rest. And Sir Chatham did just that.

What do you make of the mystery?

The questions to be answered are:

1. Who sent the anonymous letters?

2. How is the sender's identity logically deduced?

3. Was there an accomplice to the act?

Note: The solution to the above crime is printed herewith upside down, so that the reader will be enabled to follow his own clues and make his own deductions, before referring to the published answer.
